[Rules for overseas member of Kyokushin Sakamoto group]

1. The most important thing is that the member should positively continue activities for the students. Without thinking about self-interest first, we should perform an international exchange and pursue and develop the spirit and the skill of Kyokushin Karate, which will result in building up people physically and mentally. We should also associate with other karate organizations in the own country peacefully.
2. The applicant needs to meet Shihan Sakamoto before being approved to join this group. But when it is impossible, the movie of the ordinary training submitted by an electron medium or the internet movie service can substitute for it.
3. Kyokushin Sakamoto group will not demand the membership fees of overseas member. But the member should save the money for the international exchanges.
4. The overseas member should go to Japan at least once per two years. Or they should invite one person from Japan at least once per two years. Such events as international championship, summer camp and dan promotion test are the good opportunities.
5. The overseas member should hold championship, referee seminar and summer camp at least once in a year. The schedule should be informed to the secretary of Japan in the beginning of the year. And the member should report about the events by sending pictures or using the internet movie service.
6. If there is no information for two years, the membership will be lost.
7. At first, the validity of membership is two years. Unless there is any problems during the period of the membership, the validity should be extended for three years.
8. These rules may be changed after discussion as needed.
The matters except the above should also be decided after discussing, depending on the need.
